This paper will always fight for progress and reform, it will not knowingly tolerate injustice or corruption and will always fight demagogues of all parties; it will oppose privileged classes and public plunderers; it will never lack sympathy with the poor; it will always remain devoted to the public welfare and will never be satisfied with merely printing news; it will always be drastically independent and will never be afraid to attack wrong, whether committed by the rich or the poor.

TYPHOID MAY SOON DISAPPEAR.

When the Spanish-American war opened, the volunteer army was held in camps along the eastern coast of the United States, while being drilled and made ready for service in Cuba. These camps became typhoid centers and hundreds of soldiers were afflicted with the disease and the death rate was high. This has been the history of all our wars. The concentration camps have been a source of more deaths than the bullets of the enemy.

But today a different story is coming out of the field where our soldiers are quartered. We had troops in the Philippines, in Hawaii, in China, Panama, Alaska and in different parts of the United States last year, and of the 90,000 men in the service only three had typhoid, and two of them were recruits who came down with the disease four days after enlisting.

That is the most remarkable showing ever made by an army in health statistics and is due to the fact that the soldiers are inoculated to prevent typhoid.

This immunity as a result of inoculation suggests the benefits to be derived in any community by the same prophylactic treatment.

In Utah we have no great death list from typhoid and of late years there has been comparatively few deaths from the disease in Ogden, and yet even here typhoid is recognized as one of the serious problems to be met by the health authorities. By proper sanitation and a successful campaign against house flies, our boards of health hope to reduce the disease to very small proportions, as typhoid is recognized as a preventable disease, but typhoid vaccination presents a short cut to that desired end.

ACOUSTICS OF LARGE AUDITORIUMS.

A writer in Case and Comment explains that bad acoustics in halls are due to excessive reverberation and echoes by the sound waves continuing in the room for several seconds after the source of sound has ceased. Reverberation is closely related to the generally known phenomenon of echo. For the listener to hear distinctly, each syllable of the speaker must disappear almost entirely before the arrival of the next syllable. When the reverberation, which is due to the reflecting power of the walls, ceiling, and other surfaces in a room, continues too long, it produces confusion and indistinctness. "A room may also be defective on account of an insufficient amount of reverberation, for some reverberation is essential to the production of sufficient volume. With too little reverberation, the sound disappears almost immediately after leaving the speaker, and is so feeble that only those close to him can hear it. Therefore it is necessary to good acoustics to produce a condition that will give neither too much nor too little reverberation. In the average acoustically bad auditorium, the reverberation usually continues to be heard for periods varying from four to seven seconds. As the average speaker utters about four syllables per second, there is much overlapping of sound and consequent confusion in hearing in such rooms. The obvious remedy for this condition of excessive reverberation is to cut down the time of reverberation, and that is exactly what is done in correcting a room having this defect. The time to which the reverberation should be reduced is very important; it differs for different auditoriums, and must be exact to within a few hundredths of a second for good results."

The acoustic defects in more than one auditorium have been corrected by placing decorations so as to break the smooth surfaces and thus lessen the reflecting power of the walls.

In the Tabernacle in Salt Lake the drop of a pin can be heard across the length of the building, if the listener is at a certain point in the gallery and still musicians will tell you that the acoustics of the place are far from perfect, as there are too many points from which sound waves are thrown back and re-echoed.

TWO MILLION CASES OF TOMATOES.

The tomato crop this year should exceed that of last season, as the weather conditions so far have been most promising. Millions of cans of tomatoes are yearly packed within the Ogden district and gradually the industry is growing to large proportions, and the limit is nowhere in sight.

The highest quality is canned here. The very best of anything should have an unlimited market and for tomatoes, as they become better known throughout a larger territory, will gain that position.

With liberal advertising, somewhat after the method pursued by the California fruit growers, Ogden tomatoes could be sold in every part of the United States. A well informed dealer has predicted that eventually the local canneries would be packing two million cases a season. That would be nearly 50,000,000 cans. At present over 22,000,000 cans of tomatoes, peaches, peas and other fruits and vegetables are packed, and the estimate of two million cases for tomatoes is none too high. The acreage

DEMOCRATS ARE OPPOSING FUSION.

That personal animosities, as the basis of a political campaign in Utah, do not appeal to many Democrats in this state, is being made evident by the reasons for the protests against the fusion of Democrats and Progressives as presented by more than one prominent member of the party.

In support of this statement, we quote the following from the Herald-Republican of this morning:

"Unwillingness to become a party to any program which has for its main object the defeat of United States Senator Reed Smoot for reelection was the reason given yesterday by several prominent Democrats and Progressives alike for their opposition to the fusion plan which the Democratic leaders are trying to foist on the Bull Moose. Until recently there had been but little or no fight on the Bourbon program and but little attention had been paid to the overtures made to the Progressives by the ostensible leaders of the Democratic party in Utah. It has developed, however, that the only real purpose of the fusion is anything to defeat Senator Reed Smoot's reelection and the rank and file of both parties are now coming to the front in strong denunciation of the methods of the fusion promoters and declining to become parties to their 'game'."

"On the other hand there is no unanimity of sentiment on the matter among either Democrats or Progressives. Certain members of the two parties, however, are strongly in favor of the fusion and many have not hesitated to say that their supreme desire is to bring about the defeat of Senator Reed Smoot. The conservative men of the parties scorn the program."

"I am unqualifiedly against the proposed fusion between the Progressives and the Democrats in the coming campaign," was the declaration of Newton Farr, a member of the Democratic party. "If anyone could show me where any good could come of such a combination I might consider it, but just now I recognize only two parties, the Democratic and the Republican. A fusion slate cannot win, and I do not propose to be a party to any plan which has for its only purpose the defeat of Senator Reed Smoot. I will not play that game."

Newton Farr is a former resident of Ogden and known here as a consistent, uncompromising Democrat. He is helping to maintain his party principles and keep his record straight when he refuses to join in ignoring party lines to satisfy the ambitions of those politicians who propose a fusion of Democrats and Progressives in order solely to inflict defeat on Reed Smoot.

MEXICO AND FUNSTON'S ARMY.

Before the Mexican affair is settled as it should be, there will be need of a greater army under command of General Funston. That officer is now sending warnings to Washington, and reporting a serious condition in the City of Mexico.

There are two eventualities either one of which will force our soldiers at Vera Cruz to go forward. One relates to treachery on the part of the Mexicans under General Maas, and the other the collapse of the Huertia regime in the capital, followed by anarchy.

The Mexican soldiers already have reached the conclusion that the non-aggressive attitude of the American troops at Vera Cruz is due to fear and they are eager to try conclusions with the "Gringos." The longer they are left to their own poor opinion of the invaders, the greater will grow their contempt until finally some overt act of one of their number will set the stage for a real battle and then the war will be on. But even earlier than that may come the word from Mexico City that the excited people have risen in mobs, to the great peril of every foreigner in the capital, and without a staying hand within reach from any other point than Vera Cruz, the American army will be compelled to advance or be open to censure for failing to do so.

The Mexican embargo is far from a peaceful solution, and any day we may get news that will inflame the American mind and make war inevitable.

SORE EYES CAUSED BY FACE POWDER.

(Medical Journal.)

Face powder has its dangers the same as gunpowder. For several years occasional cases have come under the observation of oculists in which the patients, invariably women, complain of vision being blurred, inability to use the eyes for any length of time and severe itching of the lids. The slightest rubbing of the eyes and only aggravates the itching. In severe cases the lids are frequently swollen from constant rubbing. There is a sticky, elastic secretion which, when being removed, pulls out in long strings. Microscopic examination of the secretion reveals masses of what appear to be crystals. Until recently no satisfactory explanation of the presence of these crystals in the eye has been given. Secretion taken from the eyes of two sisters suffering from this peculiar complaint were submitted to the professor of pathology of one of the university medical schools, who found that the crystals came from rice face powder. Seven other patients in which the same symptoms and microscopic conditions were found all used the same make of face powder. When the powder is applied to the face with a puff a portion of the fine dust is driven upward and lodges on the moist eyeball. The rice powder in the presence of the tears then becomes mucilaginous in character and is not washed from under the eyelids. The powder produces the irritation, which is aggravated by rubbing. Those who use a chamomile-skin in applying the powder are less liable to cause the fine dust to arise, which probably accounts for the condition not being found in every woman using face powder. The condition is quickly relieved by flushing the eye with boric acid solution. The irritation

TWENTY-ROUND FIGHT.

San Francisco, May 8.—Gilbert Gallant of Boston and Red Watson of Los Angeles will meet in a twenty-round bout here tonight to decide the question of supremacy that their recent encounter failed to settle. In their first contest, Gallant proved himself the better boxer, but Watson sent in a punch that landed the Bostonian on the mat, and the referee called the fight a draw. The boys are lightweights.

GOOD ADVICE

An Ogden Citizen Gives Information of Priceless Value.

When you suffer from backache, Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, Feel weak, languid, depressed, Have annoying urinary disorders; Do you know what to do? Some Ogden people do. Read the statement that follows. It's from an Ogden citizen. Testimony that can be investigated. Mrs. Carrie E. Dodge, 458 28th St., Ogden, Utah, says: "My kidneys were not working properly. Occasionally I suffered from severe spells of backache and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Culley Drug Co., and they brought just the results I needed, putting my kidneys in good working order."

Mrs. Dodge is only one of many Ogden people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Dodge had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR TRADE EXCURSION

Salt Lake, May 8.—Plans for the biggest and best annual trade excursion ever promoted by the Salt Lake Commercial club were practically completed at a meeting of the trade excursion committee yesterday afternoon.

The train which will be made up of Pullman standard sleepers, with the exception of two dining cars, and declared by the officials of the Oregon Short Line to be the finest ever sent out of the city, will leave here on the night of May 31 for a week's trip through northern Utah and Idaho.

In addition to a number of prominent speakers the train will carry a brass band of twenty-five pieces and a male quartet. A comprehensive illustrated lecture on the Intermountain region, bearing on the industries and resources of the country from the Grand Canyon to Yellowstone park, has been arranged for all night stops.

The popularity of the excursion is best evidenced by the fact that more reservations have been made up to the present time than there were the day before the train started a year ago. Business men from all parts of the state have been invited to accompany the train, and all of the commercial clubs have been invited to send representatives. Replies have been received from many of the commercial clubs, each of which has notified its intention to send one or more business men from its community.

Commercial clubs of the towns along the route of the excursion, and according to information received by the committee a big reception is planned for the excursionists at every stop.
